Batman, Spiderman, Cat Woman and a princess were among the 40 or so neighborhood kids and adults who gathered on Federer on a crisp and sunny Oct. 27 morning for the annual HHIA Pumpkin Parade with a surprise visit by Mayor Francis Slay.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

I have to start by thanking Tara Ohler-Jenney for her tireless efforts on behalf of HHIA and her willingness to continue serving on the board as immediate past president. HHIA is what it is today thanks to the efforts of Tara and the leaders who came before her including Paul Sager, Dee McAliney, Dan Haag and Victoria Hatfield, to name just a few.

Moving forward one of my goals as president is increasing HHIA's membership. Relatively few neighborhood residents and businesses are paying members of HHIA. Your membership dues pay for the printing and mailing of this newsletter. In addition, we help support the community garden and neighborhood plantings and provide free events such as the recent Pumpkin Parade and movies in Carondelet Park. If you are a dues-paying member, THANK YOU!"

We are fortunate that our neighborhood has few real problems and many assets. But I can tell you from serving on this board and attending neighborhood events that being involved enriches my life. On a larger scale, having an active neighborhood organization with strong support from the residents is an asset itself that promotes our neighborhood as a fun and friendly place to live, work and play. Being involved need not take lots of time or effort. Join us for a park clean up, help out with a single event, attend meetings and provide input or even help label newsletters. Contact me at president@hollyhills.info. I look forward to seeing you in the neighborhood!

HALLOWEEN A SCARY TIME FOR ARACHNOPHOBES
THIS YEAR

John and Chelli Faletti are really into Halloween. So much so that they convinced several of their neighbors in the 6100 block of Leona, across from Woerner School, to decorate their homes and string orange lights in the trees. Their efforts earned the block a Halloween Decorating Contest Award from HHIA.

The Falettis and their daughter Emily would love to see their enthusiasm spread to the point where the neighborhood is transformed into "Halloween Hills" each fall and becomes a destination for sight-seers akin to Candy Cane Lane in St. Louis Hills.

Other winners included Richard & Karin Skeel and their spider-covered home at 4133 Toenges. The Skeels, who weren't even aware that HHIA sponsored a decorating contest, made the spiders out of common household items, including Christmas ornaments for the eyes. One spider was nearly 10 feet across – and that was the smaller one!

"My son is still talking about the spider that was rigged to fall down from the porch ceiling right in front of his face!" said neighbor Kelli Graf.

The third winner was the home at 6155 Marwinette, which had lots of lights and well done flying monkey-

Spiders overrun 4133 Toenges

ghouls floating across the yard.

Congratulations to the winners, who in addition to bragging rights, will receive a one-year membership to HHIA. Thanks to everyone who provided nominations. And it's time to start planning those Christmas decorations for the next HHIA Decorating Contest. May the best decorations win!

DNA AND THE CSI EFFECT

"The only thing that matters is the evidence," says CSI: Miami investigator Horatio Caine. While scientists in crime dramas are able to solve a crime in 45 minutes, the real-life science of DNA is much different. Here are some myths and facts about modern day DNA technology and processing.

MYTH: DNA Testing Can Take Place Instantly

Shows like CSI have "caused some problems," according to Mike Murphy, the coroner for Clark County, Nevada. "Some of those problems are [that] people expect us to have DNA back in 20 minutes of that we're supposed to solve a crime in 60 minutes with three commercials. It doesn't happen that way," he explains.

MYTH: Prosecutors Must Have DNA To Convict Someone

Forensic evidence is certainly important, but it's not the key to securing a conviction in every case. Even in cases where no DNA was present, a case can be made with a defendant's confession, clear motive, and eyewitness testimony.

MYTH: DNA Can Be Contaminated or Changed

Even if technicians are able to find DNA, finding a match can depend on how much DNA is present. You may hear defense attorneys or TV shows use the phrase "cross-contamination." This is a misleading statement. DNA can never change or morph into the DNA of someone else. Even if the DNA of multiple people becomes mixed together, tests would still come back with separate, individual DNA profiles.

The only way DNA ever changes is that it disintegrates. Over time, or due to harsh elements or chemicals, DNA can become less potent. That doesn't mean the DNA

CARONDELET PARK HAS FRIEND IN FLORA CONSERVANCY

Members of the Flora Conservancy came out on Oct. 13 to spruce up the Carondelet Park Boathouse for the fall/winter season. This is a small energetic group of volunteers who work to improve and maintain green spaces in Forest Park, such as the Jewel Box and Bogota Lake.

This was the second working Saturday that the group generously came to the Holly Hills neighborhood to improve your local park. These volunteers come from University City, Webster Groves, West County, and Kirkwood, giving of their time and talent for others to enjoy the beauty of nature. The presence of local volunteers from the Holly Hills Neighborhood was sadly lacking. Only two local residents came out and they are greatly appreciated.

More "local" residents must begin to show an interest in this beautiful neighborhood asset if

COMMUNITY GARDEN UPDATE

With the turning of the leaves and the temperatures dropping, things are beginning to wind down in the Holly Hills Community Garden, but on a recent check I found tomatoes still on the vine as well as swiss chard and kale that may make it through until next spring. Additionally, some of our beds are being planted with garlic – a great winter cover that provides a wonderful late-spring harvest.

In this our sixth year, we had 23 beds being tended by 15 gardeners. Gardeners must be HHIA members and pay $25/bed to use for an entire year, late winter/spring to the following year. It’s very likely that we’ll have a few beds available for new gardeners next spring, so if you’re interested and would like to get on the waiting list, please email Hannah Butz (our new garden leader starting in 2013) at butzhannah@yahoo.com.

One major enhancement to our garden was the installation of our own dedicated waterline through the generous support of Gateway Greening and matching funds from the Holly Hills Improvement Association.

This installation is vital to the long-term success of the garden, and should allow us to become even more of a community asset – supporting outreach to local food banks, schools and the neighborhood in general. The garden also became part of Gateway Greening’s South Side Hub Garden Network, so keep on the lookout for more events happening in your local neighborhood garden next spring!

profile will change, there will just be less DNA available to test.

MYTH: A Criminologist Will Say They Are 100% Certain It's a Match

As scientists, criminologists will never say things like "I'm 100% certain the DNA profile is a match." Instead, they use statistics and mathematical probabilities. You would likely hear a criminologist describe a match by saying something like "The suspect has the same profile as the DNA recovered from the crime scene. This likelihood of this profile occurring is fewer than 1 in 10 billion individuals." According to NYPD Crime Lab supervisor Lisa Faber, criminologists "never use the word 'match'. We say 'similar' or 'could have come from.'"

The use of DNA evidence in the courtroom is never as dramatic or theatrical as what is shown on TV. Some juries think there has to be "scientific" evidence to back up what witnesses have seen. Don't let this science fiction fool you!
